

I am fearful of this service and the harmful interference it can generate. How can a wire that is not twisted or shielded prevent radiation? No interference MUST be proven before this technology could be considered.